Check Browser Compatibility
Go to http://classes.uaf.edu and click on ‘Browser Checker’ (under Troubleshooting section).

My Blackboard
Log into Blackboard at http://classes.uaf.edu. Use your UA username and password, which should be the same as your UA Gmail account. If you have trouble logging in, contact the UAF Helpdesk at helpdesk@alaska.edu. Once you are logged in, you will see links to the courses you are currently enrolled in. By clicking on the My Blackboard tab in the upper left side, you can always get back to this list.

Announcements & Navigation Menu
Your instructor will use the Announcements for important class updates. Look for this in My Blackboard. You can also access Announcements from the Navigation Menu located on the left side of the course within Blackboard.

Syllabus
Your instructor has posted a syllabus in Blackboard. Click on the syllabus link in the navigation menu to read about important information for this class including: how to contact your instructor, required textbooks, when things are due, late work and grading policy, course and university policies.

Tests & Quizzes
Before you click on a Test or Quiz link in Blackboard, first familiarize yourself with the conditions the instructor has implemented - these may be timed, have limited attempts or be proctored.

Proctored Exams
If your exam is proctored, you will need to find either an approved testing center, like at UAF eLearning, or follow the instructions in your Blackboard class to arrange for a proctor in advance of the testing deadline.
Lessons & Assignments

Most courses have lecture or unit materials inside the Assignment areas. Click inside these folders for more information:

Assignments

Getting started in this course

Lesson 1

Lesson 1 gives an orientation to the course and to the World of Business. We will also look at examples and discuss being ethically and socially responsible in the business world.

Discussion Board – Introduction

Please introduce yourself to the class. Select and tell the class the business that you wish you owned.

Lesson 1

Introduction and Objectives

Lesson 1 gives an orientation to the course and to the World of Business. In recent decades scientists have come to appreciate and describe Earth as a system made up of interacting subsystems. After reading this chapter and reviewing the materials, the student should be able to:

- Describe the global distribution of continents and ocean basins.
- Identify and distinguish among the three rock families that compose Earth’s crust.
- Compare and contrast continental crust versus oceanic crust.
- List prominent geologic and topographic features of the ocean basins.

Lecture Notes and Lectures

Notes and other resources

01 Discussion

Please make your post to the question by Wednesday. Replies to student posts are due by Saturday.

L01 Quiz

This is a quiz over the reading material in Lesson 1. There are 20 questions. You may only take this quiz once so make sure you are prepared to begin and finish the quiz before you begin. This is meant to be a closed book quiz but it is not proctored.

L01 Written Assignment

Answer the following question: This is an essay question you will write for this course, the current chapter readings as well as your past life experiences. Each question should be about 100 words.

Submit Assignment

Submit an assignment by clicking on the assignment link and entering text or uploading your file:

My Grades

Click on the My Grades link to see how you are doing in class. Be sure to click on the item link to see full instructor feedback:

Global Navigation

Look in the upper right corner for the link with your name to find an overview of all your activity in Blackboard courses.

Blackboard Practice and Tutorials

1. Look for ‘eLearning Online Success Lab’ Orientation in Student Services section on the UAF eLearning Tab in Blackboard.
2. Find tutorials on how to use Blackboard at http://elearning.uaf.edu/go/bb-help